

Mental Health Clinician (Systemic Psychotherapist)

Salary £36,711- £39,774 and £39,774 - £42,684 | Based in Twickenham | Permanent | Full time

About the service

The Emotional Health Service (EHS) is a dynamic and progressive Tier 2 CAMH team of Clinical and Counselling Psychologists, CBT Therapists, Systemic Psychotherapists and Art Psychotherapists. We have teams at Richmond (Twickenham base), and Kingston (Chessington base) and work closely with our colleagues in Early Help and Social Care. We also have staff including Systemic psychotherapists working in specialist posts in Safeguarding, Youth Resilience, Looked After Children and Schools. As a CAMH service we have a strong sense of team and work together to support children and young people's emotional wellbeing. We deliver the service using Choice and Partnership Approach (CAPA), work closely with schools and are one of the current trailblazer sites.

About the role

As a Mental Health Clinician/Systemic Psychotherapist you will be passionate about improving the mental health of children and young people and putting them at the centre of all you do. You will provide high quality evidenced based systemic psychotherapy interventions, be part of an established team and be afforded many different opportunities to use your skills. This includes family therapy clinics, direct work in schools, running groups, providing training and we welcome creative and innovative ways to deliver services. You will also be part of a Team of 7 Systemic Psychotherapists providing access to peer supervision and many exciting development opportunities. You will also receive clinical supervision and line management within the service.
